Course Description

This course assumes no prior knowledge of business administration. It is required by other faculties for some of their programs and is the only university prerequisite for entrance into the Undergraduate Business Program (HBA) at the Richard Ivey School of Business.

Course Objectives

At the end of this course students will be able to:

1. Analyze and record accounting transactions
2. Prepare and analyze financial statements using current accounting methods
3. Learn and apply analytical tools to business decisions introduced in the context of case studies
4. Make well-supported decisions based on incomplete and imperfect information
5. Prepare a feasibility study for a new enterprise
6. Demonstrate expected workplace behavior, for example, participation, persuasion, leadership, collaboration, engagement and attendance.

Course Structure and Content

The course is divided into two segments: the first segment deals with the preparation of financial statements; the second segment focuses on the analysis of quantitative and qualitative data needed to make business decisions.

The Preparation of Financial Statements Segment (First Term)

Generally accepted accounting methods of presenting the financial condition and performance of a firm will be outlined and discussed in a series of questions, exercises, problems and cases. In addition to manipulating, correcting and summarizing data to produce financial statements (balance sheet, income statement, etc.); students will be expected to recognize the uses and limitations of these statements. Analysis and recording of accounting transactions using the T-account system will be the primary tool used in this segment of the course.

The Business Analysis and Managerial Accounting Segment (Second Term)

This portion of the course emphasizes the interpretation and use of the accounting information developed in the first term. From the decision-makers' perspective, students are expected to analyze the financial and non-financial aspects of a given firm and to evaluate future courses of action. This material is more subjective than the preceding term and requires students to make decisions using incomplete and imperfect information. The second term uses primarily cases based on small- to medium-sized businesses, as teaching vehicles, for applying the following concepts: Business Planning

1. Cost Behaviour: This section involves the classification of costs according to their behaviour with respect to the sales volume of a firm. Such analysis is useful for preparing financial projections and budgets, controlling and monitoring performance, and making operating decisions. An understanding of cost behaviour is fundamental to quantitative analysis in the second term.

2. Marketing Management: The basic tenets around how to establish a marketing strategy are studied to understand the "fit" between a product or service and its intended consumers.

3. Cash Management: This section is divided into two segments – past and future. The statement of cash flows (past) helps answer the questions about cash usage and cash sources during the past accounting period. The cash budget (future) is a tool used in forecasting cash needs and surpluses in order to help manage a firm's cash position.

4. Financial Management and Planning This section introduces ratio analysis and projected financial statements. These tools enable a manager to assess the financial condition of a firm, plan for future financing needs, and choose appropriate financing sources.

5. Managerial Accounting Cost-volume classifications, overhead allocation rates and risk/return analysis, addressed earlier in the course, are used again as analytical tools when making decisions such as the setting of retail prices, evaluating sub-unit performance, and assessing short-term opportunities (the differential cash flow model).

Course Pre-requisite

The prerequisite for Business 2257 is five credits. Unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from the department to enrol in it, you may be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.

Teaching Methodology and expectation of students

This course is taught primarily by the case method, which requires a much greater involvement of the student in class than does the traditional lecture method. Students are expected to be fully engaged in the entire learning process. This means devoting time and energy to preparation before class, listening to others during class discussions and engaging in class discussions. Collective reasoning and discovery are critical to the successful application of the case method. Prior to any case discussion, engaging in discussions with (or examining notes from) others who may have already experienced the case class is a clear violation of our norms. Students will analyze the case individually in preparation for the class discussion. In the classroom, the instructor will act as discussion leader, with emphasis on students' active participation. The very nature of the case discussion approach demands a high level of attendance, preparation and contribution in class. Detailed note-taking during class can often be counterproductive to your own learning. Instead, try to be selective in taking notes during class. It is a good idea to consolidate what you have learned at the end of each class or at the end of the day. Also, bring copies of the day's slides with you so that you can make your own additions to the notes.

Class Etiquette

Attendance

Attendance at all classes in this course is expected; however, circumstances may arise which make it impossible for you to attend. You must email in advance for known reasons. For this reason, students will be excused for up to two classes per term without requiring documentation to support the absence. The two absences per term are not transferrable between terms. These absences will not negatively affect the student's contribution grade. For absences exceeding two in a given semester, the instructor will require notification from the student's academic advisor that the absence was valid and supported with appropriate documentation. See point one on page eight of this outline for further information.

Under University regulations, your instructor can determine at which point absenteeism has become excessive and approach the Dean who may prevent you from writing the final exam, thus preventing you from passing the course.

At the discretion of individual instructors, any student who misses more than 20% of scheduled classes at any point after the first month maybe removed from the course. Anyone who has missed 20% of classes by the end will receive a class contribution grade of 0 out of 10 for the course.

Before the groups are formed any students who have missed 20% of class to that point maybe removed from the course.

NOTE: It is YOUR responsibility to catch up on missed class material by getting notes/information from students who were present. Once you have tried to catch up on your own, I will happily address any remaining questions/concerns.

Student Use of Technology in Class The Business 2257 classroom will be free of electronic devices including laptops and cell phones. Texting in class will result in an immediate "0" in contribution for that class. Recording devices of any kind (camera, recorders, phones, etc.) may not be operated without my consent.

A Note Regarding Email

1. I will not check OWL email regularly. Please email me directly at amill64@uwo.ca instead.
2. Email, although informal, still requires a tone of respect and proper language. Rudeness and disrespect will not be tolerated.
3. I will check email daily, Monday through Friday, during the term. I will try to respond to your emails as promptly as possible, usually within 24 hours. Instant responses will not be provided.

Appointments

If you wish to meet with me it is recommended that you see me during the designated weekly office hours or that you make an appointment. I prefer that you make appointments by sending an email to set up a mutually convenient time.

Make sure to be on time, have an objective for the discussion and bring a copy of your paper or exam if you wish to discuss it.

Privacy

In order to respect privacy laws, and the privacy of individual students, the only methods student grades will be communicated will be through the OWL site, direct contact with your professor or on a test/exam/report/essay paper. Your professor is not able to email your grade to any email address. Student grades are confidential. Please take this into consideration when sharing your grades or asking others to share their grades. Your choice to share your grades will not be taken into consideration in any grading decision made by your professor and in order to respect the privacy of each student, the professor will only discuss individual grades with the student in question. The University is committed to protecting specific types of information, which, if disclosed, could reasonably be expected to result in harm to the University, an identifiable individual, or a third party. As a result, your professor is not able to release any information including, but not limited to, a student's personal information, attendance or grade records, to anyone other than the individual involved.

Evaluations

Students must complete all elements of evaluation in order to receive a passing grade in the course. There will be no reweighting of components within the course. Please note that grades cannot be adjusted on the basis of need. Your mark in the course will be the mark that you earn based on your demonstrated understanding of the course content. Extra credit assignments are not available and tests and exams cannot be rewritten to obtain a higher mark. Once a student has written a test or examination she is committed to the mark earned. Students must pass at least one of the following individual timed testing points to be eligible to receive a passing grade: midterm test, midyear test, or final examination.

Component Timing

Midterm Test TBD 20% of grade

Midyear Test Within December Examination Period 25% of grade

Feasibility Study* TBD pm 20% of grade

Final Examination Within Final Examination Period 25% of grade

Contribution Every Class 10% of grade

*This course will require the submission of all written material to TurnItIn.com. Ten marks (of 100) of the written report mark will be deducted for the first 24 hours during which the report is late. Ten marks (of 100) of the written report mark will be deducted for the second 24 hours during which the report is late. The weekend following the due date will constitute one 24-hour period resulting in an additional penalty of 10 marks (of 100) of the written report mark. Those late reports handed in on the Monday must be submitted during administrative office hours (8:30 am to 4:00 pm). Reports will not be accepted between Friday at 4:00 pm and Monday at 8:30 am; therefore, any report submitted by 4:00 pm Friday will be reduced by 20 points of 100 and those submitted anytime after 4:00 pm Friday and before 4:00 pm Monday will be reduced to a total of 30 points of 100. There are no exceptions. Plan to hand in the report early; there is no penalty for being early. Reports exceeding the page limit or which are not formatted as described in "The Feasibility Study" (see First Term Casebook) will be subject to a penalty of 10 marks (of 100) of the written report mark. Additionally, any violation of the rules stated in the document "The Feasibility Study" will be subject to penalty. Students should consult with their instructors if they have any doubts regarding penalties. If it is brought to the attention of an instructor that a student has not contributed sufficiently to the feasibility project, the student may receive a grade penalty. This grade penalty will be at the discretion of the instructor and may be based on feedback received from other group members or from a peer evaluation form. Students who are absent without documentation for the feasibility study in-class presentation will receive a mark of "0" on the presentation portion of the feasibility study. Students may not pay any person or tutorial service, workshop or other organization for assistance or advice in researching or writing the feasibility study report.

Evaluation Component Description

Feasibility Study

The group project integrates many concepts taught in the course. Students work in groups of six or seven people (depending on class size) to undertake the feasibility study of a new enterprise and must complete a written report and give an oral presentation to the class. Field research and investigation are necessary. The project involves a significant amount of time (outside of regular classes) during the second term. Students should be cautioned that there will be out-of-pocket costs associated with the project; however, students are encouraged to keep these costs to a minimum. In the past, several projects have been implemented by students and have developed into successful small businesses. All projects submitted will be kept on file by the Richard Ivey School of Business.

Contribution

Contribution by each and every student is a cornerstone of any effective learning experience. Active class involvement augments the learning experience, increases assimilation of material and stimulates the level of class discussion. Students' contribution to this course is initiated through thorough class preparation. Contribution is expected to be relevant to the current discussion and includes answering direct questions, volunteering answers, advancing the discussion to a new issue, developing one side of an argument, clarifying difficult concepts and asking questions pertinent to the topic. Class contribution may also include assignments, hand-ins, group evaluations and prompt attendance. Just as important is listening attentively to your classmates and critiquing ideas constructively. Contribution will be graded on a daily basis. Attending class is important but minimal credit will be given for attendance alone. Missed classes (outside of the two missed classes allowable per term) will negatively affect your contribution grade. Students are encouraged to speak to the instructor if they have concerns about their performance or if they would like to discuss strategies to support regular contribution.

Academic Accommodation

If, on medical or compassionate grounds, a student is unable to complete a course component worth greater than 10 per cent of the final course grade, it is the responsibility of the student to consult with an Academic Advisor and follow the procedures documented in the "POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES" on this outline. For academic accommodation to be considered for any course component worth less than 10 per cent of the final course grade, it is the responsibility of the student to approach the course instructor(s) in a timely fashion (within two business days of the missed deadline). Documentation may be required to be submitted to the academic advisor. If documentation is required, the request for accommodation will be decided by the academic advisor in consultation with the instructor. If documentation is not required, the instructor will make the final decision. The policies governing requests for academic accommodation for course components worth 10 per cent or more of the course grade are outlined in the Academic Policies section included at the end of the course outline.

Dropping a Course

In order to drop your courses without academic penalty, you must drop the course by the following dates:

Full Course November 30

2016-17 BRESCIA UNIVERSITY COLLEGE ACADEMIC POLICIES AND REGULATIONS

1. POLICY REGARDING MAKEUP EXAMS AND EXTENSIONS OF DEADLINES

When a student requests academic accommodation (e.g., extension of a deadline, a makeup exam) for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course, it is the responsibility of the student to provide acceptable documentation to support a medical or compassionate claim. All such requests for academic accommodation must be made through an Academic Advisor and include supporting documentation. Academic accommodation for illness will be granted only if the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete her academic responsibilities. Minor ailments typically treated by over-the-counter medications will not normally be accommodated. Documentation shall be submitted as soon as possible to the student's Academic Advisor indicating the period of illness and when the student should be able to resume academic responsibilities. Students must submit their documentation along with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested no later than two business days after the date specified for resuming responsibilities. Appropriate academic accommodation will be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Please note that personal commitments (e.g., vacation flight bookings, work schedule) which conflict with a scheduled test, exam or course requirement are not grounds for academic accommodation.

A UWO Student Medical Certificate (SMC) is required if a student is seeking academic accommodation on medical grounds. This documentation should be obtained at the time of the initial consultation with the physician/nurse practitioner or walk-in clinic. A SMC can be downloaded from: <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg117.html> The student must request documentation sufficient to demonstrate that her ability to meet academic responsibilities was seriously affected. Please note that under University Senate regulations documentation stating simply that the student "was seen for a medical reason" or "was ill" is not adequate to support a request for academic accommodation.

Whenever possible, requests for academic accommodation should be initiated in advance of due dates, examination dates, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and Academic Advisor in a timely manner.

The full policy on requesting accommodation due to illness can be viewed at:
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/accommodation_illness.pdf

2. ACADEMIC CONCERNS

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, contact your instructor and Academic Advisor as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. Retroactive requests for academic accommodation on medical or compassionate grounds may not be considered.

If you think that you are too far behind to catch up or that your work load is not manageable, you should consult an Academic Advisor. If you consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses, this must be done by the appropriate deadlines (refer to the Registrar's website, www.registrar.uwo.ca, for official dates). You should consult with the course instructor and the Academic Advisor who can help you consider alternatives to dropping one or more courses. Note that dropping a course may affect OSAP eligibility and/or Entrance Scholarship eligibility.

The Dean may refuse permission to write the final examination in a course if the student has failed to maintain satisfactory academic standing throughout the year or for too frequent absence from the class or laboratory (<http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg130.html>)

3. ABSENCES

Short Absences: If you miss a class due to a minor illness or other problems, check your course outline for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or assignment. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow notes from a classmate. Contact the course instructor if you have any questions.

Extended Absences: If you have an extended absence, you should contact the course instructor and an Academic Advisor. Your course instructor and Academic Advisor can discuss ways for you to catch up on missed work and arrange academic accommodations, if appropriate.

4. POLICY ON CHEATING & ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Scholastic offences are taken seriously and students are directed to read the appropriate policy, specifically, the definition of what constitutes a Scholastic Offence, at the following Web site: <http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg113.html>

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offences. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offences in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offences include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. Students are advised to consult the section on Academic Misconduct in the Western Academic Calendar.

If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate or not, consult your instructor, the Student Services Centre, or the Registrar. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" is not accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offence (including plagiarism) include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

Plagiarism:

Students must write their essays and assignments in their own words. Whenever students take an idea or a passage from another author, they must acknowledge their debt both by using quotation marks where appropriate and by proper referencing such as footnotes or citations. Plagiarism is a major academic offence (see Scholastic Offence Policy in the Western Academic Calendar).

All required papers may be subject to submission for textual similarity review to the commercial plagiarism detection software under license to the University for the detection of plagiarism. All papers submitted for such checking will be included as source documents in the reference database for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of papers subsequently submitted to the system. Use of the service is subject to the licensing agreement, currently between The University of Western Ontario and Turnitin.com.

Computer-marked Tests/exams:

Computer-marked multiple-choice tests and/or exams may be subject to submission for similarity review by software that will check for unusual coincidences in answer patterns that may indicate cheating. Software currently in use to score computer-marked multiple-choice tests and exams performs a similarity review as part of standard exam analysis.

5. PROCEDURES FOR APPEALING ACADEMIC EVALUATIONS

All appeals of a grade must be directed first to the course instructor. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal signed by the student must be sent to the Department Chair. If the response of the department is considered unsatisfactory to the student, she may then submit a signed, written appeal to the Office of the Dean. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office, or you can consult an Academic Advisor. Students are advised to consult the section on Student Academic Appeals under Academic Rights and Responsibilities in the Western Academic Calendar (<http://www.westerncalendar.uwo.ca/2016/pg112.html>)

6. PREREQUISITES AND ANTIREQUISITES

Unless you have either the prerequisites for a course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from the course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisite(s).

Similarly, you will also be deleted from a class list if you have previously taken an antirequisite course unless this has the approval of the Dean. These decisions may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course because you have taken an antirequisite course.

7. SUPPORT SERVICES
